A GOLD BRICK SWINDLE.

Worked Several Weeks Ago, Just Comes to Light.

For several days there have been stories of a successful operation by "gold brick" swindlers, the victim being a well known and well-to-do resident of Ohio county. Definite details have not been forthcoming, but yesterday a pretty complete story was obtained by the INTELLIGENCER, and it was found to be true that a well known man had been victimized to the extent of $4,000. In return for this amount of cold cash he has two "bricks," or slabs, of some very heavy metal, apparently washed with gold on the outside and plugged at one place, where they were bored and pure gold found to exist, just as it always is. One of the bricks is in a Wheeling bank and the other is said to be in possession of a jeweler. They are described as about 16 inches long, 6 inches wide and 3 thick.

The story is that about a year ago two strangers approached the prominent citizen in question, with a story that they had learned from old miners the spot where a quantity of gold had been hid. There was considerable expense involved in searching for it, and the strangers did not have the ready money. They promised if the local member of the firm would put up $4,000, they would give him gold worth $21,000. After a great deal of talk over the matter, he was induced to go to the bank and borrow the needed $4,000, and six or eight weeks ago he did so. The $4,000 and the two strangers disappeared about that time, but the two bricks of gold, or pigs of lead, or whatever they are, remain to represent the assets of the partnership into which the three men entered.

A CLASS OF TWENTY-FIVE

Will Cross the Burning Sands of Mystic Shrinehood.

Next Thursday evening will be an eventful one in West Virginia Shrinehood. At that time Oisris Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will hold the first working session since that held in Huntington last spring, and, according to the indications, about twenty-five candidates will pass over the burning sand of the desert and be admitted to the oasis of membership in the order. It will be about the largest class in the history of Oisris, with the possible exception of one, and the members, who live in other parts of the state, in addition to the Wheeling people, will be here in force, and expect an enjoyable session of this very successful temple of the lighter vein of Masonry.

In the afternoon there will be a parade that will proceed over a short route on the principal business streets. The uniform will be the conventional black with the Arabic fez of the order. The camels will head the column, together with the visiting delegation of Arabs in their brilliant native costumes. The working session will convene at 7 o'clock in Arion hall and will probably be over at 11 o'clock, when the Shriner will proceed to the Stamm house, where a banquet will wind up the affair.

Don't forget that a turkey will be given to the winner of every game of ten pins at Seibert's Garden Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.
